

Student Outreach Officer

We are looking for an animated character who is keen to increase inclusivity and membership. Inclusivity is one of our top priorities at Bath and that's why we're searching for someone who's going to make sure our events offer something for everyone!

We've called this one Student Outreach Officer as we want an approachable figure head in our committee to attract all people to join the boob mission. It is up to you how you go about this but some responsibilities you may have include; reaching out to other societies and being our main point of contact for any events outside of university

The skills you need to bring to the table are:

- Approachable – we want students to feel comfortable to come to us. We are a society that requires people to show us their vulnerable side (by talking about their bodies) so you need to be able to put people at ease.
- Flexible – you need to be available when needed and be willing to give extra effort where general members aren't expected to.
- Patient – when talking to new people/potential members, you may encounter some confrontation from people that do not understand our mission or have issues with our campaign. Therefore, you need to be patient and understanding as to uphold the Coppafeel! regulations.
- Team Player – you will be joining a committee who all act towards the same aims and therefore you need to be cohesive in the team but also willing to put up your opinions and intervene to ensure the best possible outcome.
- Fun and exciting – it is vital that we continue encouraging our members to involve themselves, create their own events and help us at our bigger events. Therefore, you need to be bright and bubbly and not let the boob team energy fade.
- Coordinator – you will need to get in touch with different people in the SU, such as the marketing and volunteer office in order to help organise events and more
